Greetings,

This is in reference to a survey of the house done by an agency appointed by Managing Com. There seems to be a difference in area calculation as in current Development Plan specifications, existing balconies are included as part of the carpet area & my apartment 3B-7 is corner apartment having 3 balconies & area measures more than 100sqft additional of existing carpet area. I would, therefore, request, to kindly look into aspect & revert back on area statements which will benefit each & every society member. I am also attaching the measurement layout of my apartment for a better understanding.

Thanks & Regards,
Navin Nisar
